FRED PARKER IS FOUND IN TRUCK AS VICTIM OF GAS

Prominent Young Citrus Rancher Leaves Farewell Note to Family

"Please God, forgive me for doing this to the best wife and parents a man could ask for"—this brief, unsigned note in an envelope beside the lifeless body of Fred E. Parker, found at 8:30 this morning in his lemon grove, told graphically the story of the tragic victory of ill health and melancholy.

Finding of the body ended an all-night search for the well known rancher, missing since 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Parents Advised

Mrs. Parker, who had left home at 2:30 in the afternoon to shop in Upland and Ontario, returned to their home, 60 East Seventeenth street, shortly after 5 o'clock. She found her husband and his Dodge truck gone and immediately telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Vestal Parker, 309 East H street, Ontario.

Because Mr. Parker had been in ill health and recently had been extremely depressed, his family feared he might have undertaken to carry out recent threats to take his own life and an intensive search was begun, the relatives being assisted by members of the Elks lodge and other friends.

Description Broadcast

At 1 o'clock this morning, when no trace of the missing man had been found, the Upland police were notified and sent out a radio description of Mr. Parker and his truck.

When daylight permitted a search from the air, Walter Moffit of the Liberty Groves Operating Corp., secured an airplane from Pomona and flew over the Upland district, searching the citrus area. Circling repeatedly over the Parker lemon grove, southeast of the home, Mr. Moffitt finally discovered the truck at 8:30 o'clock.

Friends Find Body

A crew of ground searchers, directed to the area where the truck was seen, soon located the machine and Douglas Sage and J. M. Story found the body in the tightly closed cab. A tube from the engine carrying deadly monoxide gas showed plainly how Mr. Parker had chosen to end his life.

The unsigned note, with its pathetic plea, needed no interpretation in telling the tragic story of the man's struggle against the overpowering melancholy induced by ill health.

Aid in Search

Police Chief E. C. Mehl, Deputy Sheriff Jack Brown, Constable Sam Barker, Patrolman E. E. Carter and Deputy Coroner E. P. Doyle investigated Mr. Parker's death and the coroner's report states that without question he took his own life.

Mr. Parker was born in Fairmount, Minn., on Sept. 12, 1902, and had lived in California for 28 years, most of that time being spent in Ontario and Upland. He had lived on his own lemon ranch here for a number of years and was well known throughout the district, having a large number of friends. Mrs. Parker, the former Dorris Gledhill, is a prominent member of a select social circle and has been active in the Upland Junior Welfare League.

No arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made. The J. B. Draper Co. is in charge.

Young Democrats Hear Candidates At Club Meeting

A number of candidates seeking election to various offices in the present political campaign, were heard at a meeting held Tuesday evening by the Young Democrats club of the West End.

The meetig was held at the Ontario hotel, with Eugene Nesbit, president, presiding. Edgar Beall of San Bernardino, president of the county organization, was the principal speaker, and Godfrey A. Andreas, Democratic candidate for re-election to the state assembly, also addressed the club.

Other candidates speaking briefly were Harry M. Rouse of San Bernardino, candidate for sheriff, and John A. Hadaller, also of San Bernardino, and a candidate for state senator.

The West End club plans to hold another meeting in the near future.

Movie Pair Wed In 1935 By Judge Sharp Divorced

Their marital rifts widely publicized, the wedded life of Sigrid Gurie and Thomas W. Stewart of Hollywood movie fame began in a marriage ceremony performed by Judge James Sharp of Cucamonga in 1935. She has just been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

"I remember her as a very attractive, tall blonde," Judge Sharp said today. "The party came to our home about 9 o'clock at night. She really was very attractive and I surmised at the time there was some movie connection."

Her's was an odd name and later Judge Sharp recognized the name and the girl in a movie film. Last year news stories came from Hollywood about trouble in the Stewart-Gurie household and Judge Sharp has watched the case with interest.

Miss Gurie at one time had been billed on the screen as "Norway's Greatest Actress," and in that role she swept to short-lived fame. It developed that she wasn't born in Norway, but in Brooklyn.

Asked what pay he got for conducting the ceremony, Judge Sharp replied: "I recall that he gave me an envelope containing three new $1 bills."

200 Tiny Pieces Are Easy Pickings For A. L. Palis

It may be easy to put together 200 of those tiny wheels, screws and springs in a watch—if one knows how.

A. L. Palis has been at it for 35 years.

"It's not difficult after one learns the trade," he said, in a casual manner. "Putting the pieces together comes rather natural and it really isn't such a hard job as it might seem to the public."

Good watches have 200 pieces, but inexpensive timepieces aren't so complicated, he explained. Clocks, for example, really are very simple—if you know how. In other words, the more expensive the watch, greater is the number of wheels and the like in the inside.

Watches made in 1938 are almost the same as those made 35 years ago, when the veteran Uplander first learned the knack of fixing them. He learned the trade in Henderson, Ky., under the instruction of a French clock maker and repairer.

"Now there are good trade schools with two and four year courses in which men can learn the watch repair business," he explained.

It takes more than skill, however, to put the numerous pieces together. "A person has to like his work, whether it is fixing watches or doing anything else, to be successful," said Mr. Palis. "There is a fascination about the close work over the repair bench. I really do like it."

Improvements in watch making have come through the years, but in general the same principle is used now as years ago.

"Some of the better watches are easier to 'get at' now than formerly, due to minor improvements, but there are just as many, if not more, little pieces now as ever," he added.

NEW HIGHWAY FOR UPLAND IS SEEN

Widening of Nineteenth and Development of Artery Is Reported

Prospect of another major highway through this district was seen today in a report that Baseline, commonly known as Nineteenth street, is to be widened to a four-lane highway through this district and extending from Cajon pass to San Dimas. Stuart Wheeler, Claremont city councilman, said he had received definite information relative to the proposed improvement.

Although the project has been shrouded in relative secrecy, it is known that a group of state highway engineers made an inspection tour of the route last week, with a view to studying engineering problems in connection with the development.

The major highway would relieve congestion on Foothill boulevard and take traffic out of residential and business districts.

Nineteenth street is now a comparatively narrow thoroughfare from Upland to Etiwanda. West of Upland it is only partially improved although a street right-of-way has been established.

Mr. Wheeler is reported to have been advised that the route would extend on a direct line from Upland to San Dimas. An underpass would be built at Foothill boulevard. The new route would connect with Arrow highway in San Dimas. Probably contemplated in connection with the development would be widening and straightening of Arrow highway from San Dimas to Los Angeles.

If such a project is completed, it would provide another direct connection between Los Angeles and this district and on to the San Bernardino mountain resorts.

FOOTHILL WORK FINISHED TODAY

Last Activity in Widening Boulevard Completed By Contractors

It's finished today.

All the work in connection with the widening of Foothill boulevard has been completed. The final work of oiling the boulevard shoulders through Upland was finished yesterday to mark the last activity in the $369,453 project.

Foothill boulevard, now the longest four-lane highway in California, is 46 feet wide from San Bernardino to the edge of the county, west of Upland. In addition, eight-foot shoulders have been oiled on each side of the pavement where the highway is not bordered with curbs.

Curbings have been poured along 11 miles of the distance, and in these stretches the shoulder is oiled full width between pavement and curbing, a width averaging 16 feet and in no case less than 13 feet.

The two outer traffic lanes of the highway are each 10 feet wide and the two inner lanes are 11 feet wide. Down the center of the paving is a dividing strip four feet wide. Many novel safety factors have been built into the road, including flared intersections where side roads enter the boulevard along those sections where curbings border the highway.

RED CROSS BOARD RECEIVES REPORTS

Committee Is Named to Study Suggestion Presented by Coordinating Group

Monthly meeting of the executive board of the Upland Red Cross chapter was held Thursday morning at the Upland public library, with Mrs. Mary Eckerman, chairman, presiding.

Attracting special interest of the board members was a proposal submitted by Vernon V. Paine in behalf of the Upland Coordinating committee, suggesting a joint financial campaign for all welfare organizations.

Mrs. Eckerman named Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, H. M. Guy and Mrs. Harry W. Flowers as a committee to investigate the proposition.

The regular monthly reports were made by Mrs. Flowers, treasured, and Mrs. Lottie Fuller, city nurse. Among the correspondence read was a letter from Congressman Harry Sheppard commending the chapter for the prompt and efficient aid rendered during the March flood.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. Harry W. Flowers, Mrs. Lottie Fuller, Miss Flora Morley, Mrs. O. K. Granger, Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, Mrs. V. H. Wilson, Mrs. Frank M. Baxter, Mrs. F. H. Manker, H. M. Guy and Vernon V. Paine.

HARRY FIES NEW STATE PRESIDENT OF R. F. D. GROUP

California Letter Carriers Honor Uplander With High Office

Harry S. Fies, this city's R. F. D. mail carrier, is today president of the California Rural Letter Carriers association. He and Mrs. Fies returned yesterday from San Jose, where they attended the annual convention. Four hundred and ninety-one carriers in the state belong to the organization.

Active in the group for many years, Mr. Fies has served in various capacities. Although he declined to seek the position, all but 90 votes were cast for him for the presidency. He was widely acclaimed as the outstanding worker and leader of the group, according to accounts given in the San Jose Mercury-Herald.

The state organization is divided into counties and from time to time a county meeting is held in Upland.

"The organization works for the benefit of the mail carriers and the general public," Mr. Fies explained. "One thing planned for next May is a special national rural mailbox week, when rural box owners will be asked to paint their boxes so that names will be legible."

Concerning this special week, the Uplander said that an appeal would be issued next spring for wide cooperation by local people.

Other officers of the state association are M. E. Clark, Exeter, vice-president; J. C. Haskell, Riverside, secretary; T. R. Thompson, Lancaster, treasurer, and C. E. Smith, Garden Grove, national executive board member.

United Financial Drive for Groups Here Considered

One financial drive for all the welfare and character building organizations in the community rather than a separate financial campaign for each organization is to be considered by the local groups.

A committee including representatives of local organizations, was appointed recently at a meeting of the Upland Coordinating council. This committee is to study the proposed plan of a "Community Welfare Drive" and to report to the various groups on the advisability of the proposed consolidated financial solicitation.

Dr. Thompson's Offices Will Be Closed 2 Weeks

Offices of Dr. O. A. Thompson will be closed for two weeks beginning at noon tomorrow.

Interior of the building at Euclid avenue and Ninth street will be renovated and while this work is being done, members of the staff will be vacationing.

Dr. Thompson has gone to Toronto, Canada, where he will speak on radionics at the national convention of chiropractors.

APPOINTMENT OF ALTA LOMA POSTAL HEAD IS DELAYED

Political Speculation Centers Around Reason for Situation

With C. E. Hogancamp's four-year term as postmaster at Alta Loma having expired 60 days ago and his formal notification of reappointment failing to arrive, many friends of the federal employe are active in his behalf.

Reason for the delay in his reappointment is unknown, but it has been the object of political speculation.

A petition asking for Mr. Hogancamp's reappointment was signed by almost every business man in Alta Loma and by many citrus growers. This document was sent to Congressman Sheppard and a copy was also given to Assemblyman Godfrey Andreas. Previously, the Alta Loma Community club adopted a resolution asking for Mr. Hogancamp's reappointment.

The question of Mr. Hogancamp's reappointment or the appointment of his successor has been the subject of discussion among prominent Democrats in the Alta Loma - Cucamonga district.

It is understood from official sources that the name of at least one other Alta Loma resident has been suggested to Congressman Sheppard for appointment.

Hostetler Family Will Leave Soon For Eastern Trip

The Rev. Lester Hostetler, pastor of the First Mennonite church, Mrs. Hostetler and their daughters, the Misses Alice and Dorothy Hostetler, are preparing to leave in about two weeks on their annual eastern trip, their destination being Sugar Creek, Ohio, where they have a fruit farm.

The family first will go to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, to attend the Mennonite general conference to be held there on July 31 - August 7. They then will go to Sugar Creek, where the son, Hugh Hostetler, is staying with his grandfather while aiding in looking after the farm.

The Rev. Mr. Hostetler and his family will return to Upland early in September.

For the greater part of the time during the pastor's absence, the Mennonite pulpit will be filled by the Rev. Albert Janzen of Los Angeles, who is scheduled to go to China as a missionary within a few months.

Woman Injured in Etiwanda Accident

Two cars figured in an accident on Foothill boulevard at Etiwanda avenue last night, with Mrs. Alene Maloney of San Pedro being injured. After being given emergency treatment at the San Antonio Community hospital, she was taken to her home.

One of the drivers failed to make a boulevard stop, it is reported, although detailed information of the crash is lacking.

Reading, Card Playing Are "Squire" Burt's Pastime

A. W. Burt, who for years has been better known in this community as "Squire" Burt, is living a quiet, retired life and enjoying his daily contacts with many friends. He likes to read, murder mysteries and western stories being his favorites.

"Perhaps I read too much," the 83-year-old pioneer resident said as he closed a popular magazine. He looked at the magazine cover, and then added: "You can see it isn't very 'heavy' reading, but I like the mystery stories."

Is In Good Health

Mr. Burt makes his home in the Casa Blanca hotel, Ontario. While he is in good health, he isn't robust and he retires early. He likes to be with people. Through the years of long legal practice in Upland, Mr. Burt made many friends and he is thrilled at meeting those friends now.

Poker playing became a popular diversion for him in recent years and today cards provide him his best pastime. Seldom does he miss a day at the Elks club in Ontario.

"Really, I don't know how I would pass away the time if it wasn't for the Elks," Mr. Burt said. "I play poker or rummy until I get tired and then rest there. Pretty soon I play again. There's always a great bunch of fellows ready to play with me."

Weighs 125 Pounds

Weighing 125 pounds, Mr. Burt has gained slightly since he began his residence at the hotel.

"I feel fine, but I like to rest occasionally during the day," he added. "Its just a nice walk from here over to the Elks club rooms."

A member of the Upland Lions club for many years, Mr. Burt resigned when he moved to Ontario. The Ontario Lions, however, made him an honorary member of the club there.

"The Lions meet here every Tuesday and quite often I go to the meetings just to shake hands with the fellows and to see them," he said.

Huge Dam and Channel In Canyon Are Assured With Final Approval on Project

Before many years this will be an actual reality in San Antonio canyon—a dam 1,600 feet across and 30 feet high at the mouth of the canyon and a concrete storm channel leading from the dam to Santa Ana river, 16 miles south.

Such a gigantic project will be placed by the federal government without any direct local expense. Detailed construction plans will be started immediately. San Bernardino county supervisors yesterday approved a request for PWA funds for the undertaking. Previously Los Angeles county supervisors had taken the action and yesterday's action resulted in the final step necessary for funds to be released by the federal government.

Cost of the project will be approximately $6,000,000.

To Be Debris Basin

The dam-like structure in mouth of the canyon will serve as a debris basin. An excavation will be made over an area of 1,600 feet by 3,600 feet. It will be designed to hold back flood water and to permit a regulated flow to go down the storm channel. If the flow isn't too large, the dam and debris basin will hold the water until it sinks into the underground basin.

Aim in the $6,000,000 expenditure is to protect Upland and other cities along the canyon from any future flood damage. The dam and storm channel will be large enough to handle the maximum anticipated flow in any future flood.

All Financing Available

With all financial arrangements for the project now completed, work will be started immediately in the preparation of plans. Major Theodore Wyman, district engineer of the war department, will be in direct charge of preparation of plans and of construction. R. V. Ward of Upland is a member of the county flood control advisory committee. C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, will also be in close touch with the project.

Exact location of the dam has not been determined. What effect it will have on the canyon road and other improvements in the area is also undetermined. Exact route to be followed in placing the storm channel is yet to be fixed. For a distance, however, it is expected the channel will follow the boundary line of San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties.

To Stimulate Work

Since all the money for the project comes from the federal government, it is likely that most of the laborers will come from the relief rolls. Its construction, however, will require a mass of material and indirectly general work will be stimulated.

Major Wyman reported at a meeting in San Bernardino yesterday that perpetual easements and permanent maintenance would not be required.

GRAPE MEN FORM LOCAL COMMITTEE

Meeting of All Vineyardists Is Planned to Discuss Prorate Vote

One vote for every 50 acres of grapes will be the basis of the July 29 ballot on whether vineyardists will participate in a state-wide prorate.

This feature and other points in the state prorate act were outlined at a meeting of San Bernardino county grape growers at Garrett & Co. winery, Cucamonga, yesterday afternoon. John P. Coy, county horticultural commissioner, outlined the act.

Another meeting of grape growers is to be held prior to the election to inform more property owners of the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal. Vincent Lucas, chosen chairman, and Harry I. DeBerard, secretary, were authorized to obtain additional data for presentation at the future meeting.

Grape growers will ballot in the Cucamonga school, South Archibald avenue, Cucamonga, and the George C. Frost garage in Etiwanda.

In this county are approximately 30,000 acres of grapes.

If two-thirds of the votes cast throughout the state favor the prorate the restricted marketing plan will become effective, according to information from the Grape Growers Prorate Campaign committee.

More than 28,000 growers of juice, wine, table and raisin grapes in 43 counties are expected to participate in the vote.

Mrs. D. S. Krehbiel Sells Her Home; To Reside in Pasadena

Mrs. D. S. Krehbiel, who has lived in Upland for 32 years, has sold her home at 253 North Eighth avenue and within a month she will move to Pasadena, where she will reside. Her daughter, Miss Esther Krehbiel, teaches in the Pasadena schools and as soon as they find a suitable location in that city Mrs. Krehbiel will take up her residence there.

The seven room home on Eighth avenue was purchased this week by Miss Amoret Craig of 455 North Second avenue. Miss Craig expects sometime to occupy her new property as her permanent home, but she may first lease the residence for a time.

The sale of the home was made by J. L. Messenger, with the Empire Realty and Mortgage Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Emery Sargent returned home early this week from a very pleasant vacation in Yosemite valley. The abundance of water has made the valley unusually beautiful this summer and the Sargents report the park is thronged with vacationists.

NEW CITY BUDGET IS GIVEN STUDY

Tax Rate and Expenditures Will Be Unchanged, Reports Indicate

With the new tentative city budget having a total about the same as the total for the year just closed, the prospect appeared today of an unchanged tax rate—$1.15.

The city's finance committee met last night to discuss the tentative financial schedule. Revisions were ordered made and the new budget will be presented to the council next Thursday for approval. Figures in the tentative expense program will be made public at that time.

The tax rate, however, cannot be set until the city is officially advised of its assessed valuation. Unofficial reports, however, indicate the valuation figure will be about the same as a year ago. On this basis the same tax rate is in prospect.

Reports from the city's office indicate that occupancy of the city hall six months hence will not result in an increased number of municipal employes.

MYSTERIOUS BEAST KILLING ANIMALS

Etiwandan's Property Invaded With Calf, Dog and Rabbits as Prey

Some animal with "tremendously large feet like a mountain lion" has taken its toll at the Howard Frost home in Etiwanda. The animal has killed a calf tied out on a stake, a dog and more than 40 rabbits. On two occasions the mysterious animal has invaded the Frost premises, only to slyly escape without being noticed.

Many and varied have been the speculations as to the type of the beast. Near the calf carcass were large prints similar to those that might be made by a mountain lion, according to Mr. Frost. Many persons have observed the footprints in an effort to identify the type of beast.

None of the animals was eaten, although the calf's ear was torn off and its body badly mutilated.

Mr. Frost works until late at night and none of the family is at home now other then himself. Returning at 11 p. m. Mr. Frost found the rabbit hutches in ruins and his animals dead. A few nights later the calf and dog were killed.

On each occasion the Etiwandan waited for hours in a secluded spot, hoping the animal killer would return to its prey.

CITY HALL BIDS WILL BE OPENED HERE AUGUST 4

Contracts Scheduled To Be Let Week Later and Early Work Likely

Bids for the construction of the city hall are scheduled to be opened August 4 and actual erection of the municipal building at D street and Second avenue is to begin August 19.

Plans and specifications for the civic center structure will be submitted at the July 21st meeting of the council. At that meeting, according to a tentative schedule, the council is expected to give final approval of the plans and to set the date for opening the estimates.

To Start August 19

The city's agreement with the PWA specifies that actual work must be started by August 19.

Placed 36 feet back from the D street sidewalk and 12 feet from the Second avenue sidewalk, the structure's main entrance will be on D street. An entrance also will be on Second avenue. The eastern and central portions of the structure will be used for the water department, city manager and engineering offices, city council chambers and offices for the city judge. The council chambers, with seats for more than 50 persons, will be designed for use also as a court room in jury trials.

Police Near Fire Hall

The police department and jail will occupy the western portion of the structure. A 15-foot driveway will separate the city hall and the fire department. A canopy overhead will connect the two structures.

Plans call for the fire hall to be refinished to conform in appearance with the city hall.

Estimated cost of the structure and furnishings is $70,000. The city will pay 55 per cent of the cost, the PWA 45 per cent.

30 Pneumonia Cases Treated With Serum Here During Year

During the first year of administering pneumonia serum through San Antonio Community hospital, 30 persons were treated, it was reported today.

Available in a comparatively small number of communities, the serum is used when patients are critically ill and the effectiveness of the new medical development is revealed in the local record.

Under conditions prior to introduction of the serum the mortality rate was about 46 per cent, Dr. A. A. Aita, hospital superintendent, explained. With the serum injected at the proper time, the pneumonia patients usually recover during a brief convalescence, the official said.

Reception for New Minister Will Be Held This Evening

Appreciating the opportunity to greet and welcome the Rev. Samuel Hughes, new pastor of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Hughes, many members of the congregation and friends from the other churches are preparing to attend the reception to be held this evening, beginning at 7:30, in honor of the pastor and his wife.

The reception will be held in Fellowship hall, where a musical program will be given and several of the church leaders will extend a welcome to the honor guests. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

All friends in the community are invited to attend.

Reynolds' Condition Is Greatly Improved

Undoubtedly the serum treatment for pneumonia has saved another life at San Antonio Community hospital.

Albert C. Reynolds, secretary of the San Antonio Water Co., who was critically ill with pneumonia for several days, was given the serum treatment Tuesday morning at the hospital. Previous to that time his temperature had reached the unusually high of 106.4 degrees.

Report from the hospital this afternoon is to the effect that Mr. Reynolds partook of a good breakfast this morning and has shown much improvement since Tuesday.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?—Esther 4:14.

"Thirty Dollars Every Thursday"

It seems quite probable that the "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" pension plan will qualify for submission to California voters at the general election in November.

Under this grandiloquent proposal all California citizens fifty years of age or older—"not employed for compensation"—would be eligible to receive thirty state-issued one dollar warrants—or certificates—every Thursday. Promotors of the plan estimate that 500,000 persons would accept the pension plan immediately—if it became effective. At $30 per week they would require $15,000,000! And by the end of the first year there would be in circulation $780,000,000 in one-dollar warrants—or certificates. According to the theory of the plan the warrants would be retired each year by a 2-cent per week tax on each dollar bill.

Aside from the probability that the plan is unconstitutional—inasmuch as the federal government reserves the exclusive right to issue money—it causes most thoughtful persons to gasp to contemplate how far we have drifted from sound values and fundamental laws when tens of thousands of our citizens can be tempted to believe in something for nothing.

We have no desire to blast the hopes of old people who yearn for security. In fact, we hope with all our heart that a way will be found to give them security—but we cannot favor a program that appears to be foredoomed to failure and which builds up hopes that cannot be fulfilled.

With "state money" how could merchants buy from out of state manufacturers and wholesalers? For this "state money" naturally would not be legal tender in other states—even if it was not declared unconstitutional in California. And with $780,000,000 of state warrants in circulation it is reasonable to believe that merchants—unless they refused to handle them—would have some $500,000,000 worth of the bills on their hands every Thursday. That would mean a tax of $10,000,000 per week for California merchants—in addition to all other taxes! And what merchant would like to have a till full of them the day the tax would have to be paid?

There have been many visionary proposals in California. We have had the "Single Tax" time after time. The one-house legislature scheme has been with us. We rave even flirted with the Epic (End Poverty in California) plan. This year there has popped up the absurd Garrison bond act—which would destroy the two-thirds required for issuance of bonds and mortgages on our properties. But it seems to us that this "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" plan caps the climax.

This year California voters most certainly need to know their ballot—and more than ever before they need to recognize that eternal vigilance is the price of solveney as well as liberty. There is still a basic law which says that something for nothing is an impossibility—and the people should realize that fact.

Optimism seems to prevail throughout the nation—as things appear to be looking up. It is said that farmers in the wheat country are preparing to sell a record crop at better prices than they expected to get—and reports from industrial centers indicate that many workers who lost their jobs from three to nine months ago are being put back to work. Here are some of the reports: In one eastern city 1500 skilled radio workers were called back to their jobs; in another industrial city 15,000 clothing workers are busy again, while in a Pennsylvania steel manufacturing town the idle workers have been requested to report and register for jobs. Improved business sentiment seems to have come with rising stock and commodity prices, resulting also in bringing confidence to buyers for retail establishments. A flood of optimism poured out of the nation's capital last week—with government economists predicting early business recovery. Secretary Iekes declared that a billion dollars worth of building materials—including iron and steel, cement, lumber and plumbing equipment—would be bought in carrying out the government's new public works program. The Federal Housing Administration reports that it will this year insure mortgages on $1,000,000,000 of new homes—an all time record for construction financed by this method. The inevitable result of such spending and activity will be improved conditions in practically all lines of business and industry. It is hoped in this part of the nation that better prices will result for citrus fruits, which are really the backbone of our territory.

It is no longer a question of who wins a modern war—it simply is a matter of who is the least or greatest loser. This was demonstrated during the great World war and is being forcefully demonstrated again in the Orient. Japan, the aggressor, and China, the attacked, are both much worse off today than before hostilities broke out a year ago. Most other nations are suffering also. For instance, the Sino-Japanese conflict is estimated to have meant a loss of $200,000,000 to American business—a mere $25,000 per hour. The fact that Japan has practically ceased buying materials—except for war purposes—means a loss of about $5,000,000 a day to other nations from which she used to buy. Yes, war is all that General Sherman said it was—and then some.

There must have been a number of pretty reckless celebrators on the Fourth of July—the death toll of the nation is said to have been 513. According to the tabulation of causes of death, it is shown that the fireworks have been practically eliminated in that respect. It's the automobile that is the great menace—that vehicle taking 256 of the total killed. Included in the fatalities were 139 drownings, while only three persons are known to have been killed by fireworks—all of the latter being of the home made variety.

"The year's symphony concerts in Cleveland drew 63,000 people; one recent ball game drew 7,000 more than that. Music hath charms—but baseball hath what it taketh," saith the San Bernardino Evening Telegram. And that is far from telling the tale: We read that it is not at all unlikely that there will be one million applications for the great all-star game between the two big leagues next year.

Glass neckties are said to be a new thing in men's attire. They should become popular over night—it ought to be easy to wipe off the gravy.

The trouble with too many people is that they go to God for help as a last resort—and after they have gotten it they stray away again.

ODD FELLOWS SEAT STAFF OF OFFICERS

Euclid Lodge Holds Its Semi-Annual Installation in Regular Meeting

With Everett Liles, district deputy grand master and his official staff of Claremont conducting the ritualistic ceremony, the recently elected and appointed officers of Euclid lodge No. 68, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, were installed Tuesday evening during a meeting of the lodge held in the I. O. O. F. building.

The meeting was opened by the retiring noble grand, Homer Washburn, and the business session was followed by the installation.

Several short talks were made by the officials and guests and as a surprise courtesy for Homer Washburn, past grand, Houston Dewey, the publicity chairman during the past year, presented him with a handsomely bound and neatly arranged publicity book. The book contains several scores of newspaper items that give a practically complete history of the lodge's activities during Mr. Washburn's term of office and was compiled by Mr. Dewey.

The meeting was attended by approximately 60 members and guests, among the guests being 17 members of the Claremont lodge. Other visitors were present from the Covina and Ontario lodges also one member each from the lodges in East Lynn, Mass.; Abilene, Kan., and Greeley, Colo.

At the conclusion of the installation the Claremont team put on an exhibition drill and later refreshments were served, the social committee being Erwin C. Koch, John Swoap and G. A. Brest.

Local Lodge Group Motors to Covina To Greet Officers

A large group of members of Euclid lodge No. 68, I. O. O. F. and a few from Silver Link Rebekah lodge motored to Covina Wednesday evening and attended an open meeting held by that lodge in honor of Louis J. Hardie of Oakland, grand master of Odd Fellows in California.

During the session conducted by Emmett Burt, noble grand, R. F. Briggs of Oakland, grand marshal, presented the grand and district officers in attendance. Odd Fellow officials introduced, besides Grand Master Hardie, were E. J. Trathem of Los Angeles, grand chaplain; William Cornthwaite of Pasadena, district deputy grand patriarch; P. W. Bishop of Alhambra and Boyd Tronas of Baldwin Park, district deputy grand masters. Rebekah officials presented were Mrs. Louis J. Hardie, inside sentinel of the Rebekah assembly, and Mrs. Alice McCarty of Baldwin Park, district deputy president of the assembly.

Grand Master Hardie was the principal speaker, his address dealing with the founding of Odd Fellowship in America and the working of its principles.

At the conclusion of the lolge session the team from the Upland lodge put on an excellent exhibition drill. The serving of refreshments concluded the meeting.

Attending from Upland were Lee K. Bigley, noble grand; Houston Dewey, Herman Walker, Harry Plum, Eugene Hogan, Erchel Pugh, Erwin C. Koch, Charles Anderson, Harold Anderson, Arnold Michelson, Kenneth Tjornham, Milo Washburn, Homer Washburn, Clinton O. Mayberry, Kenneth Luke, Edw. G. Luke, Vernon Bryden, V. C. Haynes, Raymond Edwards, John Swoap, Ira Francisco, Mrs. John Swoap, Mrs. Kenneth Luke and Mrs. Milo Washburn.

Two Conflicting Ideas

Hawthorne-Lennox Advertiser: It is to be noted that Rotary clubs, following the dictates of Nazi Germany, have bowed themselves out of the Austrian section of the Reich. It is a reasonable supposition that Germany in reality has performed a valuable service to world-wide Rotary by exterminating the near hundred clubs in that country and the dozen more in the recently annexed Austria. When an organization which stresses international peace, friendship and morality—or any section of it—is placed where it is subservient to the kind of ruthlessness which holds sway in Central Europe, it can only be emasculated and transformed into a hideously distorted image of its real self. To have remained in Germany Rotary would have been a silent partner in all the racial prejudice, oppression and murder of which the rulers of that national are guilty.

Beg to Get Back Own Money

San Bernardino Sun: George Creel thinks that the states have become beggars on the steps of the White House.

For what do the states beg? For the money contributed by the people. It would appear they ask only for that which belongs to them. California is one of the 15 states that pay more federal taxes than they receive in federal appropriations. And we know of people who brag of their generosity in seeing to it that California gets such a big slice of federal money. We must be grateful because we get back a portion of our own money. That is one of the features of a centralized government.

California would be better off if it invited the federal government to stay away—on both the receiving and the dispensing end.

The Aged and Blind

San Bernardino Evening Telegram: Decision by Attorney General Webb that beneficaries of old-age pensions in California need not forego that assistance by reason of their refusal to live with children able to provide for them is not only common sense but it squares with the plain intent of California's legislature in passing the law.

The lawmakers had it in mind to smooth the way for these old folks as they make their feeble journey into the sunset. It was the intent of our representatives in Sacramento to be generous with these aged impecunious. But the property restriction for several years defeated that purpose.

With the removal of that restriction by the last legislature, the law makes it plain our neighbors are entitled to assistance which shall not be withheld from them merely because they declined to live with a son or a daughter who probably could feed them but with whom they would be unhappy.

True, in theory, there are no such sons and daughters in our California. In actual practice, there are many.

As a corollary to the attorney general's opinion in this case of the elderly impecunious, his office rendered another that extends justice to the indigent blind. It had been decided by the social welfare board that no blind person possessed of more than $500 in personal property could secure state aid, with the further insistence that applicants should include in the appraisal of such personal property the cash surrender value of any insurance policies they might hold.

This, the attorney general's office points out, was an invasion of the law by the social welfare board. The law governing aid to the blind merely limits property to $3,000 and contains no such restriction as that which covers permissible property holdings by the aged. For the board which administers the act to make any other stipulation is in effect an attempt to legislate. No board that takes this attitude is respecting the oath of office subscribed to by its members.

San Bernardino county ought to take a profound satisfaction in the circumstance that its member of the California Senate and its two current members of the Assembly supported the legislation which gave the above measure of justice to the aged and the blind in California.

Assemblymen Godfrey Andreas and Gordon Corwin supported the measure in the Assembly and Senator Ralph E. Swing guided it through the Senate. These three able legislators stood staunchly for that law as they did for all others which firmly established in California the fundamental principles of social security.

Our county has been fortunate to have as its representatives at Sacramento three men whose sympathies are with California's unfortunate, who have the intelligence to know what to do about it, and who cooperate so splendidly together to get for San Bernardino county what it is entitled to from the state government.

40 POLICEMEN ON JOB IN GUARDING 15-MILE DISTRICT

West End of County Is Well Protected Against Law Violators

This is no paradise for law violators.

At least, the presence of more than 40 officers in a 15-mile district is enough to discourage any ambitious program on the part of "band men."

In the area from Chino on the south, foothills on the north and the county line on the west and Etiwanda on the east, are approximately 32,000 residents. Upland has its own police organization as do also Ontario and Chino. Also each of the townships has its constable. Three deputy sheriffs serve under the direction of Sheriff Emmett L. Shay.

40 Men On Duty

This makes a total of 40 officers. In addition there are investigators and other representatives with police authority handling liquor law and other state board of equalization matters. California highway patrolmen are also on duty in the West End.

On a proportionate basis, Upland officers have about the hardest job. In area Upland is almost as large as Ontario. Here there are seven policemen and in Ontario there are 19. Denseness of population counts, however, and that is the major reason for the larger force in Ontario.

Efforts Not Coordinated

While there are 40 policemen in western San Bernardino county, the peace officers efforts are not coordinated as one department. For example, this city has its force that functions only in Upland. Similarly, Ontario and Chino have their own departments.

Deputy sheriffs, however, cover the cities as well as the outlying districts. Regular patrol routes are maintained at night by the deputy sheriffs as far east as Fontana.

In case of an emergency, many policemen would be available here. By means of radio hookups, police can be summoned in large numbers here or any point in the district. When a local grocery store was recently burglarized, the radio appeal brought a small army of officers to Upland. It was almost midnight but there were many uniformed policemen ready for duty.

Radios Link Officers

Radios in the Upland police department and in the local patrol cars are constantly tuned to the San Bernardino county sheriff's radio and to the Pomona police radio station. All calls from the West End go through the Pomona station. County-wide reports are handled from the San Bernardino station.

While in organization the peace officers are not coordinated, yet in actual cases the radio can summon many officers for duty in emergencies.

And so this is a "tough" spot for "bad men."

Brawny Men Building New Dirt Road In S. A. Canyon

Tremendous force of strong men's powerful muscles is rapidly tossing aside huge boulders, levelling steep ridges and digging into the sides of San Antonio canyon. Literally a bed of boulders and debris, the canyon will soon have a new highway, constructed in record time by a loyal band of hard working, perspiring road builders.

Evidence of Southern California's worst flood is being wiped out in this deep, beautiful canyon leading from Upland to the famous Camp Baldy resort area. A dozen or so men, aided by machines that move with miraculous power, are reaching the end of their task.

Dirt Surface Road

Giant boulders are being tossed aside and steep sloping grades are being reduced. Before many days there will again be a good dirt-surface direct route to the canyon resorts and to the 300 cabins left by the March flood.

Years will pass but there will still be some evidence of the flood, however. Twisted, gnarled trunks of mighty Sycamore trees appear as skeletons along the roadway. Timbers from hundreds of the demolished cabins are scattered over the rock-strewn canyon. Bodies of two flood victims have never been recovered. Some of the timbers appear as crosses, like grave markers.

To Be Ready Soon

July 30 has been set as the date for completion of the road and Clarence C. Steele, foreman for the Los Angeles county road department, is determined to be ready. Work is under way at four different points. Mr. Steele, huge in stature, hurriedly goes from one crew to another in directing the gigantic task of making a road through the flood ruins.

Earl Eller directs a giant bulldozer and virtually laughs at anything in the path of the roadway. Harry Flumerfelt, San Dimas, uses dynamite expertly in blowing up ridges and in tearing away mountain sides. Steam shovels gnaw away in dirt and rocks.

Hundreds Coming

Hundreds of motorists are expected in a caravan that will on July 30 form on Euclid avenue and go over this highway, built by brawny men in a few short weeks.

After the road has been packed by hundreds of motorists' cars, an oil coating will be applied. Until then, however, the road will be far from smooth.

Nevertheless, the new route will permit a direct access to the mountain resorts and will be sufficient to handle a large number of cars.

Christian Youth Rally Draws 200 Persons to Park

Attracting more than 200 young people of the West End communities, the meeting held by the Chaffey Area Christian Youth association in Ganesha park Tuesday evening was an outstanding occasion.

The picnic supper was the first event of the evening and was followed by a musical program, several instrumental and vocal solos being given by various young people. The program was closed with a period of community singing from the screen, in which the entire group joined with enthusiasm.

While the program was in progress many other picnickers in the park were attracted by the music and gathered around in large numbers.

One of the most enjoyed features of the evening was the moonlight hike to the top of the peak, where a campfire service was held. An inspiring talk was made by Gordon James and the group joined in singing hymns, with the service being closed by the sounding of taps by a bugler on the hillside.

This was the first of a series of three such meetings planned to be held during the summer months.

LOANS READY IF GRAPE PLAN WINS

Growers Will Get Federal Aid If Californians Favor Prorate Plan

Future of this county's grape industry is seen in the outcome of the July 29 vote on the prorate question. At stake also in the vote is the fate of California's grape crop. Proponents of the prorate contend the flow of the crop to the markets must be regulated to maintain a price above cost.

If growers accept the prorate plan, financial assistance will be given by the federal government, according to R. L. Adams, director of the Grape Growers Prorate Campaign committee.

Funds Available

Director Adams said tentative commitments of federal loans, totaling $14,900,000 to save California's grape, raisin and wine industry from a price collapse this fall have been obtained by a committee of growers and processors after two weeks of negotiations in Washington, D. C.

H. A. Caddow, secretary of the committee, advises that federal funds will be available on condition that growers adopt a California grape prorate program in the state-wide election.

If the prorate is adopted and federal financing provided in accordance with the tentative commitments, the Washington committee estimates growers should average not less than $10 per ton net return on their record-breaking crop, forecast at 2,500,000 tons this year.

Increase Is Seen

This would be at least $5 more return per ton than growers could hope to get if the prorate and federal financing program were not carried out; or at least $12,500,000 in benefits for producers would be obtained by adopting the prorate, the negotiating committee declares.

Voting in this district will be in the Cucamonga school, South Archibald avenue, and in the George Frost garage in Etiwanda.

The Edward E. Grays Are Occupying New Euclid Avenue Home

Attorney and Mrs. Edward E. Gray are moving today into their new home at 854 North Euclid avenue.

The attractive residence, of California colonial architecture, was just this week completed and has attracted much attention during its construction. The landscaping of the grounds is yet to be done and special care is to be taken to make the plan of the grounds and the plantings harmonize with the style of architecture of the home.

Dewey Harnish was the architect for the residence and James Castle & Son of Ontario was the construction firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray and family have been residing at 608 North Laurel avenue.

Members of San Antonio Heights Community League Enjoy Special Program as Guests at Cohen's Resort

Regular meeting of San Antonio Heights Community League held last evening became a delightful social event when a large number of Heights residents gathered at Cohen's resort on Crescent drive as guests of the management.

The meeting was held in the recently completed and very attractive assembly room, with the League president, Dr. Chas. B. Taylor, presiding.

The unique program, in keeping with the pleasant social atmosphere of the meeting, was presented by Miss Sarah M. Jacobus, librarian of the Pomona public library, whose remarkable collection of dolls has attracted attention in many lands.

Miss Jacobus spoke of her dolls, which she had on display, and told many interesting stories of their history, of the countries from which they came and of her acquisition of them.

The dolls, of all sizes, kinds, material and colors, have been gathered from the far corners of the earth and many lands are represented by them. They all are dressed in native costumes and are the typical dolls with which the children all over the world play.

Miss Jacobus has herself secured many of the dolls, while others in various countries, learning of her collection, have brought and sent many of the dolls to her. She had on display last evening approximately 50 of the dolls, which her audience enjoyed inspecting.

At the conclusion of the program, the resort management served refreshments to their guests.

Opening the meeting, Dr. Taylor held a very brief business session, during which plans were made to hold a picnic in San Antonio park to take the place of the regular meeting in August.

The Joseph Teuschers Now Visiting in Rawlings, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Teuscher received a letter Wednesday from their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Teuscher, announcing they had arrived at the home of Mrs. Teuscher's brother, Ross Alcorn, former Montana state senator, now residing in Rawlings, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Teuscher (Marie Lois Fetterling of Pomona) were married in Las Vegas on Friday, July 8, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Fred Gilbert and witnessed by the bride's aunt, who later entertained them in her home.

From Las Vegas, Mr. and Mrs. Teuscher motored to Rawlings and they expect to visit for some time with the bride's relatives there.

The senior Teuschers have received several messages from the couple telling of the various interesting places they have seen.

Mr. Teuscher is employed with the Ford agency in Ontario.

Review of Books At Local Library

By Member Library Staff

"Tennessee Valley"

Whether one agrees with one Morgan, or the other Morgan, one will enjoy the book "Scenic Resources of the Tennessee Valley," recently sent to the local library gratis by the Tennessee Valley Authority. It was published by the Authority with the assistance of the State Planning Boards in the valley and several federal agencies.

So much water! Why does nature show so much partiality? Beautiful falls, great rivers, beautiful and inviting. Falls Creek falls, one of many depicted, is 257 fee high, the sheer drop shown is over 100 feet greater than the height of Niagara. A natural swimming pool in the Great Smoky mountains that is actually used for swimming.

From the steep mountain slopes of western North Carolina and Virginia flow the French Broad and Holston rivers, uniting at Knoxville to form the Tennessee.

Together with its tributaries, the Tennessee river drains 40,600 square miles in parts of seven southeastern states.

Early settlers found an almost unbroken forest blanket over the Tennessee valley, ranging in composition from southern hardwoods in the lower elevations to northern conifers on the mountain peaks. At the present time only a few thousand acres of virgin forest remain, in isolated coves and on remote mountain ledges. A forestry program, however, seeks to restore forests on the estimated 13 million acres of the valley which are considered too steep for cultivation.

This book deserves the attention of those interested in nature and because of the recent controversy—whether Morgan is in, or Morgan is out.

"Peace as the product of preparedness for defense, to the patient settlement of controversy, and the dynamic development of the forces of good will."—Herbert Hoover.

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.
When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Ray C. Norton, manager of the Upland branch of the Bank of America, will begin his two weeks vacation Saturday and he and Mrs. Norton will leave at once for a motor trip. They will go first to the home of Mr. Norton's sister, Mrs. Abbie Hopwood in Santa Barbara, and after a short visit there they will spend several days motoring to whatever places they decide to visit from day to day. No special plans have been made and they do not know how far north they may go.

C. W. Tweed, who resides over near Pomona and sharpens lawn mowers in Upland and a number of other nearby towns, has just returned from a trip of six weeks to Kansas and Missouri. Mr. Tweed went to Kansas to help harvest the wheat crop on his farm near Salinas, leaving here in May. However, shortly after his arrival in Kansas black rust, a fungus, blew in on the wind and damaged the crop to such an extent that there was not enough left to make harvesting worth while. Mr. Tweed estimates that over half of what was expected to be an excellent wheat crop in Kansas was ruined in the same way, in numerous instances the cost of cutting would be greater than the price that could be secured for the crop.

Traffic Questions Answered Here

Q—How many stickers am I permitted to have on the windows of my car?

A—Stickers are only permitted on windshields within a seven inch square in the lower corner farthest removed from the driver's position.

Q—Is a cut out on a car muffler o. k.?

A—Decidedly not. Section 673 of the Vehicle Code requires mufflers be in constant operation to prevent any excessive or unusual noise.

Q—If I load the back compartment of my car with pillows, bedding, etc., so that the rear window is covered, must I install an outside rear view mirror?

A—Yes, and it must reflect to the driver a view of the highway for a distanct of at least 200 feet to the rear of such vehicle.

Q—After midnight, when street cars are not operating, is it lawful to drive through a safety zone?

A—It is not lawful to drive through one at any time.

Q—When may fog lamps be used as a substitute for headlamps?

Uplanders turned deep sea fishermen Wednesday with a large catch being hauled in off of San Clemente. Eugene Hogan won the "jackpot" for bringing in the largest fish. Others on the outing were Perry Long, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howarton, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Thaanun, Rev. Rex Lawhead, Anthony Caso, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mooney, Dr. O. W. Kankel, Roy Creighton, Jack Creighton, Kirk Vernon, Sam D. Barker and Jake Voth.

VALENCIA OUTLOOK BECOMES BRIGHTER

Prices Better and Florida Crop Harvested—Lemons Improve

With the Florida crop nearly completed, Valencia prices took a spurt this week in eastern markets and gave hope to local growers that an average for the season may be raised to a level by which they may make a small profit.

Adding to the favorable market outlook was warmer weather in the east and a generally more encouraging economic condition throughout the country.

Valencias were bringing $3 to $3.50 a packed box in the east, or about 75 cents a field box. The average for the year will probably not be much over 50 cents a field box to the grower, unless something unforeseen creates a tremendous upturn in price.

Export business to foreign countries was said to have fallen off recently, although shipments were continuing to Europe through the Exchange.

Government buying of No. 3 grade fruit at $8 a ton had aided some Southern California localities. The government has been buying citrus fruit in its surplus commodity program, for distribution to relief families.

Plans for Annual Caucus Are Made As Council Meets

Plans for the annual Twenty-fifth district pre-convention caucus to be held at the Sycamore Inn on August 23, were made during the meeting of the San Bernardino County Council of the American Legion held Tuesday night at Fontana.

County Commander Norman P. Henderson of San Bernardino presided, and several reports were made of the recent Boys State project; however most of the time was given over to planning for the district caucus.

The new district officers will be installed during the caucus.

Attending the Fontana meeting from the Upland Legion post were Homer T. Goslin, commander; Sam B. Rowe, Chas. V. Benson, Eric Rhenstrom, Harry Plum, Earl Marsh, Roy Ray, Herman Cordes, Thos. E. Howarton, Frank Lutz, Floyde L. Atwood, Allan S. Barr, Lee Wire and P. A. Thaanum.

One Mile To Go In Digging Big Tunnel

Less than one mile to go!

Hard rock tunnel crews on the 13-mile San Jacinto tunnel of the Colorado river aqueduct today were blasting and drilling their way through the last mile on the difficult Potrero shaft section of this long bore through Mt. San Jacinto, according to word received by General Manager F. E. Weymouth of the Metropolitan Water District.

At the same time, other tunnel crews working toward each other on the Cabazon shaft-Lawrence adit leg of the tunnel had cut down the hard rock barrier between them to less than 600 feet. This leg of the tunnel is scheduled to be "holed through" by August 1 or earlier, district engineers estimate.

Recognized as one of the most difficult and spectacular tunnel-driving jobs in the history of engineering, the San Jacinto tunnel is the last of the 38 hard rock bores on the giant Metropolitan Water District aqueduct to be completed. The tunnels on the aqueduct total 108 miles in length, and have a diameter of 16 feet when lined with smooth concrete.

The entire aqueduct system is 392 miles in length and is scheduled to be ready to deliver water from the Colorado river to the thirteen district cities in 1939.

In Natural Gas Communities you really see the sky!

There's no chimney smoke in Southern California to dull the beauty of the horizon! For most homes and factories use natural gas. And natural gas is all heat. It burns clean. Of course, people usually take this for granted. It is only when you compare other regions, in which other fuels are used, that you notice the difference. Make a comparison when you take a trip elsewhere. ■ And remember, in factories and in homes, for best service from this clean fuel, use equipment that is up to date. Modern gas appliances for cooking, refrigeration, water-heating and house-heating are now being shown at dealers' and at the gas company. Ask about the very liberal terms.

EARLY ACTION ON LIQUOR ISSUE AT BALDY UNLIKELY

Revocation of Licenses Difficult Local Committee Is Advised

It may be several months before any definite action is taken relative to the proposed cancellation of the liquor selling permit at Camp Baldy. In the meantime a local committee is in close touch with William J. Bonelli, member of the state board of equalization from this district.

A committee has been formed to seek revocation of Mrs. Ruth Curry Burns' liquor license permit at Camp Baldy. Permits are usually automatically renewed at the beginning of each calender year and unless there is some specific charge of law violation it is difficult to avoid renewals, according to word received from Mr. Benelli.

Mrs. Burns was refused a permit at her Idyllwild resort, but there is no similiarity of conditions between that resort and Camp Baldy, it is pointed out. A permit already exists for liquor sales at Camp Baldy. Public opinion may have some force on whether a permit is renewed, but in general all permits are continued until they are cancelled due to gross violations, according to an explanation.

In the meantime, Mrs. Curry is reopening Camp Baldy, and it will be operated only as a cafe. After the summer season she expects to decide on whether a new resort building will be erected.

Scores of letters asking that San Antonio canyon be free of liquor establishments have been sent to the state board. Many of the owners of the 300 cabins in the canyon are reported to be in favor of a "dry" area.

Vacation News About Uplanders

Away from their work and regular daily routine, many Uplanders are today on vacations. While many have gone on trips to visit, some are at mountain resorts and others are vacationing at home. How some are spending their time and data on this city's vacationers is given here.

Miss Wirt to Salem

Ruth Wirt, bookkeeper at the San Antonio Community hospital, will leave tonight on a two weeks vacation in Salem, Ore. Prior to joining the local hospital staff she resided in Salem and this will be her first visit there since coming to Upland.

Horaks at Big Bear

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Horak and his brother, James Horak, are vacationing at Big Bear. James is in the mountains during a vacation from his aviation study and work in Glendale while Harland Horak is away from his duties at the Upland branch of the Bank of America.

Mrs. Bailey to Rest

Mrs. Mark H. Bailey of the J. J. Atwood dry goods store, will take her annual vacation next week. Mrs. Bailey has made no definite plans for the vacation, but she expects to spend the greater portion of the time at her home, 282 North Sixth avenue.

Sleumans to Leave

Mr. and Mrs. G. Vernon Sleuman and family will leave tomorrow on a motor trip to Colorado and Nebraska. They will spend most of their time in Colorado, visiting and vacationing.

Fies On Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Fies are expected back this week end from a vacation that took them among other places to a convention at San Jose. Mr. Fies is a very active member of the Rural Letter Carriers association which held its annual get-together at San Jose. Following this they planned to tour in various parts of California. He is the Upland R. F. D. carrier. During his absence Martin Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Davis, is carrying the mail.

Officer at Brother's N N

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Evans are spending the first week of the Upland policeman's vacation in Huntington Park, at the home of his brother, B. A. Evans. His two weeks vacation began Monday and they plan to spend the second half of the period at Big Bear.

Carl Riggs Traveling

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riggs, Fifth avenue, are on an extended journey during his vacation from his duties at the post office. They are in Texas, where they will visit his relatives. They will also tour to various scenic attractions and leisurely visit at various points.

Lawsons Golf at Night

What is described as a perfect vacation is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lawson and family in the British Isles, according to his mother, Mrs. C. S. Lawson. "He can play golf as late as 9:30 at night," she said, in reporting on one activity of the vacationers. "It is so light at 10 o'clock that one can easily read by moonlight."

CCC YOUTHS HERE HIGHLY PRAISED

Lions Hear Military Leader Tell of Fine Spirit at Cucamonga Camp

Enrollees at the Cucamonga CCC camp were given a very strong endorsement yesterday by one who knows them well.

Captain Matheson spoke at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house, commending the youths for their enthusiasm in tackling the various work projects and in their general attitude about the camp.

Away from home, their friends, and in new surroundings, the youths rapidly become established in camp life and accomplish much on the various soil and water conservation projects, according to the official.

Captain Matheson explained that new recruits are added to the camp every four months. Additions are necessary because some youths return home or to commercial jobs.

Camp enrollees are required to send money back home only if their parents are in need of funds. Minimum pay is $30 a month.

Captain Matheson is in charge of the youths when they are not working. Recreational facilities are provided, baseball being a popular game at present.

Floyde L. Atwood was program chairman, introducing the speaker. President Howard Mason presided.

George Vose Will Speak at Meeting Of Townsend Club

George Vose of Michigan, member of the Townsend national speakers bureau, who has come to California at Dr. Townsend's request to participate in the present political campaign, will speak next Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Upland Townsend club to be held in the Upland Woman's club house.

Mr. Vose, said to be an eloquent speaker, will talk in behalf of Mayor C. T. Johnson's candidacy for congress. Mayor Johnson will be unopposed in the Republican primary in August.

The meeting will be open to the public and anyone interested will be welcome to attend.

EUCLID PAVEMENT MAY BE REPAIRED AS PROJECT READY

West Side of Driveway May Be Improved From Foothill Blvd. South

West driveway of Euclid avenue, from Foothill boulevard south, will be repaved if a WPA project is approved. Detailed plans for raising the level of the artery and for placing new pavement have been prepared by the city.

Progress of this project will be watched with interest by many in the city. Many persons favor making Euclid avenue a "one-way" thoroughfare, and such action may follow the improvement of the pavement. At present the slope on the west drive is too severe for heavy loads of citrus fruit, making it difficult for citrus growers to use that portion of the artery.

Since being paved years ago, Euclid avenue has not received many repairs. When the project is actually filed, an effort will be made to get WPA officials to rush it through for a final allocation of funds.

Garden Notes

By Bill Gilliland

Make Rooms in Your Garden

Can you imagine what your house would look like if there were no partitions between the different rooms; if when you stepped in the front door you could see not only the living room but the dining room, the kitchen range and the laundry trays on the back porch? Regardless of the neatness and charm of the individual rooms, if they are all jumbled together the effect would be unrestful and unharmonious. While we do follow the custom of using partitions in our homes, we sometimes try to construct a garden without separating the different features.

Conceal the Service Yard

Almost every back yard has at least two features. One is the service yard where the incinerator and clothes line are located, the other is the lawn or living area. These features are so distinct that they should be completely separated so that nothing in the service yard is visible from the other area.

Ways and Means

Hedges, of course, are one of the principal means of enclosing ones garden axes, where a formal design is desired, hedges are indispensable. Fences and brick walls are used in many situations, and although more costly, they give an immediate effect.

Where a division is needed between two features in the informal garden, an informal shrub border can be used most effectively. In such a border it is best to cluster several plants of the same variety together, although some variation is possible and adds interest to the planting.

Keen Interest of People Makes Shoe Shiner Work Hard

By Lucy Fisher

Had it not been for the keen interest taken in him by many Upland people, Harvey Aday would never have continued in the shoe shining business, he said today. Knowing that many people are interested in his success, he industriously works away at his little shop, 165 Second avenue.

"It is to my many friends in Upland that the credit should go," said Mr. Aday. "Many times when I was discouraged and on the verge of quitting the business, they would urge me to keep on."

In 1929 Mr. Aday, one of eight children, came to Upland from Texas and started to work in the fruit industry. Because of a foot, which was accidentally crippled in infancy, he had to give up the work. Newly made friends in the community advised him to go into the shoe shining business. With no experience along that line he started and soon had a growing business.

"People were good to me in the very beginning," he continued. "I was surprised, too, for I'd heard that people out west weren't very friendly. When I arrived here and found so many nice people, I was glad I came."

Because of conditions, Mr. Aday's business has not been as good as when he first started out, but he believes it is on the upgrade and he doesn't worry about it.

"I ride up on the bus every day from Ontario early in the morning, and it is usually late when I leave in the evening," he explained. "During the day many different people come into the shop—salesmen, merchants and house wives."

He is also a "calendar collector." Many calendars line the walls of his shop. Beside them are photogfiraphs of friends and business acquaintances.

"I like the calendars and pictures because they brighten up the walls," he added.

Mr. Aday likes pictures showing beautiful scenery and nearly all of them on the walls show views of mountains, rivers and lakes.

NOTHING IN UPLAND IS—

More Beautiful Than Euclid Avenue....

All of us are proud of it. When visitors come, we show them the scenic double drive, tree-lined thoroughfare. The avenue widely advertises Upland.

Perhaps the best yardstick in judging any city, however, is that city's newspaper. Frequently requests come to The News from residents in other cities. They want to know about Upland—they ask for The News. Perhaps some of you send copies of The News to residents in other states—just to let them know about Upland.

Just as you are vitally interested in Euclid avenue, so you are very much concerned about The Upland News. You want it to be representative of Upland. You want it to be a good newspaper.

Advertising Is Factor!

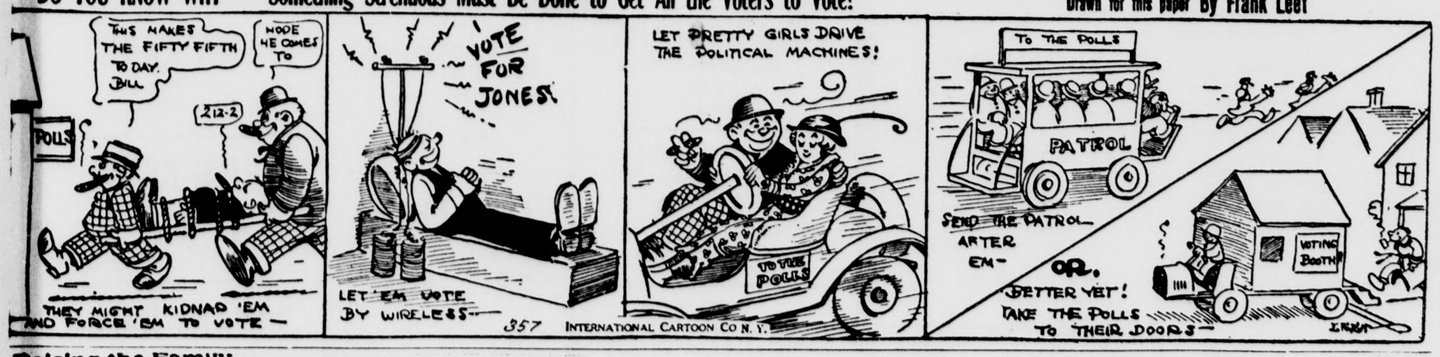

Advertising determines the size of a newspaper. You can have a part in making a better Upland News by buying from stores that advertise regularly—and by suggesting to non-advertisers the importance of telling what they have to offer.

MEXICAN SOCIAL BUILDING GOING UP WEST OF UPLAND

Colony Between Upland and Claremont Building Headquarters

Mexicans in the colony between Upland and Claremont are today constructing their own social hall and community center. Donations to purchase materials are being solicited.

A ground-breaking ceremony was recently conducted, under the direction of the Rev. Josiah Poeton. Residents of the colony have gathered many rocks and carried them to the building site for use in the new structure. Sufficient quantity of materials is now on hand to begin construction. Money is being sought to employ a building superintendent. Labor in the construction will be volunteer. Fiestas and other events have been held recently to secure funds.

Sum of $1,200 has been contributed for the purchase of materials.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

Guild Plans Picnic

Drawing an attendance of 34 members and guests, a combined social and business meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Cucamonga Community church was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. G. Stoebe, 1393 Hermosa avenue, Alta Loma.

A picnic lunch was served beneath the shade trees in the Stoebe garden and was followed by the brief business session with the president, Mrs. Ray R. Ford, presiding. Devotional service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Wm. A. Tieck.

During the session plans were made to hold the annual Sunday school picnic on Wednesday, July 20, in Fairmount park in Riverside. The Sunday school committee will provide the rolls and the ice cream and those attending are to take all other dishes.

It was decided that all persons attending the picnic should meet at the church at 9 a. m. and transportation will be arranged for those desiring it.

At the conclusion of the business session a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

T. N. T. Club Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Oric Hober entertained members of the T. N. T. club Wednesday evening, the party being held at their home on Lemon street, Alta Loma.

During the early part of the evening a spirited bridge tourney was enjoyed, with high score prize going to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and second prize to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawyer.

Late in the evening when Mrs. Hober served refreshments, a special birthday courtesy was extended Mrs. Gordon A. Billings, Mrs. A. Billings, who were presented with a handsomely decorated birthday cake.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billings.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hober were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owings, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mr. and Mrs. William Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hogencamp, Mr. and to Mr. Lawler and Mrs. Gordon Thomas Monkman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawyer and Mrs. Lawyer's sister, Miss Fern Powell of Bloomington, Ill., who is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lawyer.

Boys Enjoy Picnic

Miss Mary McGilvra entertained a number of boys of her Sunday school class of the Cucamonga Community church Wednesday, when she accompanied them to Galvin park in Ontario for a picnic, the hours being 11 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The boys played a number of games and enjoyed a bountiful picnic luncheon.

Miss McGilvra was assisted by Mrs. Leslie Foster and the boys attending were Edward Riggan, Richard and Dell Richardson, Kenneth Hawker, Raymond Grusenmyer, Donald Hensley and Junior Ferguson, the latter from Los Angeles.

Mystery Speaker Secured

Ladies night will be observed by the Alta Loma Community club when the regular meeting is held in the new club hall next Monday evening, it is announced by the president, Ben H. Wilson.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and several young people of the community are scheduled to entertain during the dinner hour.

Mr. Wilson will conduct a brief business session and will present a special guest speaker, whose identity none but Mr. Wilson will know until the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen and children, George and Margaret, of 640 Amethyst avenue, Alta Loma, left today for Yosemite valley, where they will spend a two weeks vacation. Mr. Allen is employed at the lemon packing house of the Alta Loma Heights Citrus association.

Vacationing at Big Bear

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Paulin and family, who are vacationing this summer at Big Bear, spent the past several days at their home on West Sixteenth street, returning to Big Bear this morning. During their stay here their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hawkins of West Sixteenth street, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Harris of Los Angeles occupied the Paulin cabin at Big Bear. They returned from their vacation on Thursday evening.

Vacationing at Home

Harland P. Goodrich, member of the staff at the First National bank, is enjoying his annual vacation and is spending the greater part of the time at his home on West Ninth street.

R. F. Lemon Returns

R. F. Lemon, vice-president of the First National bank, will return today from San Diego, where he has been visiting since July 3 with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Batchelder (Elizabeth Lemon). Mr. Lemon will conclude his vacation this week end and will return to his duties at the bank Monday.

Mussers on Trip

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Musser and family are vacationing in Central California and will visit Yosemite national park before returning next week. An officer of the California Dairymen's association, Mr. Musser went to San Jose early this week to attend a meeting of the state group. From there he and his family plan to go to San Francisco, then to the park.

CARTY GIRLS TEAM DEFEATS ONTARIO

Close Score Last Night—Baldwin Park Girls Coming Next Wednesday

In one of the best played girls games on the Ontario diamond the Carty Ice Cream Co. team from Los Angeles defeated the Ontario girls on the local diamond last night by a score of 5 to 4. While the Ontario girls outhit their opponents 10 to 5, they lacked the power to put over runs in the pinches. Margery Mast pitched a good game against some of the best birl batters from the big city, the Carty team being a member of the Loyola league.

On the Ontario team is Pat Glass of Upland. The lineup for Ontario was as follows: Margerita Lowen, 3b; Pat Glass, lf; Tommy Pifer, cf; Jane Loughrey, ss; Agnes Calloway, 1b; Margie Mast, p; Anna Biglow, rf; Fern Defendtrfer and Nancy Ray, 2b; Dot Ayers, c.

Baldwin Park Next Wednesday

The Baldwin Park girls will play Ontario on the Y. M. C. A. diamond next Wednesday night—and this promises to be a great game. Margery Mast will be on the mound for the locals and Helen Galanis will do the catching.

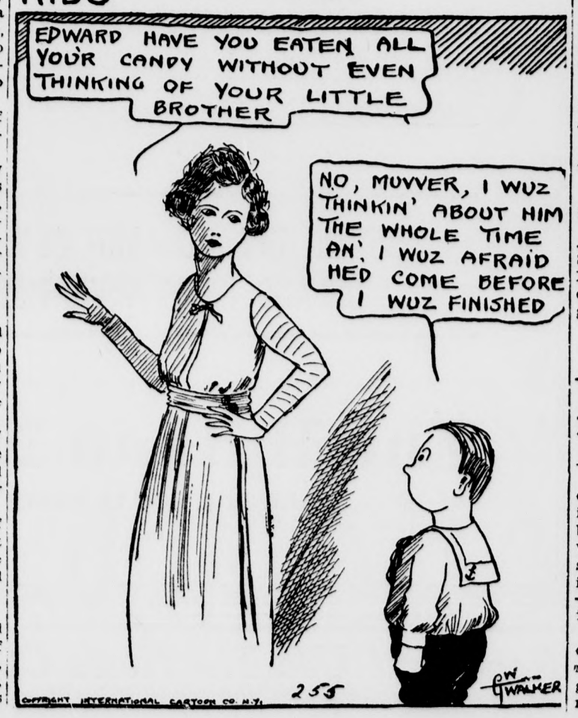

Pat Glass has been playing a great game in left field and also gets her share of hits. Jane Loughry at short, Marie Pifer in center field and Agnes Calloway at first are hitting at a terrific rate. Mrs. Calloway is the wife of the famous Glen (Cab) Calloway.

Shaw Plays Hold Spotlight at Pasadena Playhouse

George Bernard Shaw brings a variety of political skippers to his play, "On the Rocks," slated for the Pasadena Community Playhouse July 18-23, in its Pacific coast premiere.

The Irishman drags to the footlights and to No. 10 Downing St., his drama's setting, a menagerie of those who would set a troubled England on its feet. The comedy and the tragedy of English politics, applicable to any country of the world in the jarring timeliness of Shaw's writings, are unreeled by Conservative, Communist and Fascist, with a prime minister who would meld all, as the mainspring.

In true Shavian style, "On the Rocks" mixes humor with a specific number of verbal bullseyes destined to stick in the playgoer's mind.

As in the case of "Heartbreak House," this latest by Shaw, written on his world tour in 1933, aroused great waves of pro and con during its past month's run in New York. Its unbelievably prophetic passages anticipate to the letter today's international political problems, with a gigantic question mark bringing down the final curtain.

"Heartbreak House" completes its current Playhouse run on Saturday, July 16.

Fewer Miles, Fewer Accidents

Covina Argus: Numerous organizations are inferentially claiming credit for the decline in traffic accidents during the past six months. No decline has been so sharp since 1933. Statistics reveal that 2750 lives have been saved, and thousands saved from injury.

Real reason for this decline is the simple fact that fewer motor vehicle miles are being driven during this depression, as was the case in 1933-34. Not only are thousands not driving at all who last year were driving, but the average driver this year is covering fewer miles as a personal economy measure. Sales taxes on gasoline in all states reveal this to be true.

Much good work has been done by traffic safety councils and such organizations in all states in the union. These educational campaigns are undoubtedly important. But the slump in traffic deaths cannot be claimed by these organizations.

It would be better for us if we could have the truth about our major problems. Insincere propaganda creates distrust in any movement.
